Rice Market Report

Italy: The market does not move much in recent weeks, only the paddy Baldo continues its ascent it is sold at €410/MT as there is still an important demand for the Turkish market.

Every day there are articles on the Italian newspapers commenting that these low prices are not good at all and that the European community should intervene. Given farmers' dissatisfaction with prices, the rice mills are afraid that the round grain, which has remained stable in recent weeks, does increase in a single stroke.

Rice mills still have considerable difficulty in supplying the by-products. Most of them wish to finish all contracts already concluded before making new offers
