Rice Market Report

Italy: The market hasn't changed much compare to last week. The paddy Arborio increased a little bit. So did the under-products too.

Rice miller has expecting a price increase as soon as it will rain. They believe that farmers who will not be able to work in the fields while it's raining, will try to increase the price. It appears that farmers rented at lot of external silos. On top of that, farmers soon will get subsidies, they won't need money and will have enough space to keep the paddy in silos and therefore they will try to get higher prices.
