

Rice Market Report

Italy: There is truly little demand in Italy and given the lack of work the rice mills are ready to reduce the prices to work. Some prices of milled rice are therefore revised downwards, but this has nothing to do with a drop in the price of the raw material.

The farmers are in the fields, busy sowing, so they do not have much interest in selling.

This lack of work worries and only accentuates the problem of the lack of by-products, the price of which continues to rise. They are therefore still extremely sought after and almost impossible to find. Hopefully, after Easter, the situation improves.
